

What is Ocean Conservation? Protecting Our Watery World

The ocean is a big, blue playground filled with amazing creatures, but people sometimes leave trash or pollute the sea in different ways. Ocean conservation is like cleaning up the playground and keeping it safe for all the creatures.

Here are the first steps to take action

1. Be a Gentle Ocean Explorer:

Observe the amazing creatures up close,

BUT

Watch from a distance

Don't Disturb animals in their homes

Don't feed them

Don't touch them

2. Become an Ocean Expert:

Dive into books and articles about the ocean

Explore documentaries and films about marine life

3. Join a beach (or lake/river) clean up

Get hands-on experience and help the environment
